

Is there a way to emulate the W$GETC routine?

The possible workarounds are:

1) leave "CALL W$GETC" in the sources and enhance the attached program if some additional keys are required.

-> this is the best solution when a lot of sources use this library routine.

2) replace "CALL W$GETC" with accept statement directly in the sources, but it's necessary to change also the value tested (example key-status = 53 instead of key-found = "kd" for "Key ArrowDown").

-> this is the best solution when few sources use this library routine.
